CHURCHILL VISIT TO ANKARA DIPLOMATIC MASTER STROKE

Defensive Security Of Turkey Believed Aided By Meetings

BY JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press War Editor
Prime Minister Churchill's weekend trip to Turkey with a message from President Roosevelt, and probably clear guarantees of Allied aid, appeared today to have been a diplomatic master stroke to safeguard the eastern Mediterranean flank for the coming Allied attack into Europe.

The quickening pace of the campaign for a cleanup in Tunisia, and the relentless drive which carried the Russians to less than 40 miles from Rostov and virtually doomed the weakening German grip in the Caucasus moved the Allied armies steadily into position for that offensive.

American, British and French forces were striking out in three sectors of the western Tunisian front, while the Axis battled desperately to keep its coastal stand from being pinched in two.

An American raiding force drove the Germans from the village of Sened, in a thrust close to Maknassy, 33 miles from the Tunisian east coast, repulsed a counter-attack, and withdrew on orders after completing their mission.

The German high command announced that the Russians had broken into the last bastion of the Nazis, a suicide army at Stalingrad, and the Berlin radio said two more generals had been killed in the debacle.

Churchill, who went from the Casablanca conference to Turkey by plane, conferred Saturday and Sunday with President Ismet Inonu amid a group of British and Turkish military leaders whose presence showed clearly that the talks dealt with more than diplomacy.

"Agreement was reached," it was announced, "on the manner in which Great Britain and the United States would be able to help Turkey materially to consolidate her own general defensive security."

Observers in Ankara regarded it as significant that Turkey chose to have by-passed the conference when, as a neutral, she could have kept them secret and probably lessened the reaction from Berlin.

German broadcasts quoted a Transocean dispatch which sought to pass off the results of the conference as meager, and said "the material assistance which Turkey is being assured under the agreement is nothing sensational."

On the Tunisian front, United States forces were closing in on Maknassy in a thrust that might cut off the coastal road along the Gulf of Gabes and pinch the Axis position in two.

The raid on Sened apparently was carried out by an advance force which was reported yesterday to have by-passed the village in a thrust toward Maknassy from northeast of Gafsa.

At that time a second American force was reported pushing southward toward Maknassy from the vicinity of Sidi Bouzid.

Maknassy is 33 miles from the eastern Tunisian coast where the Axis was trying desperately to hold open a line of withdrawal for Marshal Rommel.

Heavy fighting also was reported on two other sectors of the western Tunisian battlefield. Americans, flanked by French, were fighting against heavy German resistance in an effort to win back Faid Pass which the Germans captured earlier in a six-mile thrust toward Sidi Bouzid. Striking toward Robaa, to the north, the British were opposed stiffly by German troops supported by 52 tanks in fighting along a road leading from Pont Du Fahs. An Allied communiqué said "the enemy forces counterattacked and restored the position."

Reports were heard in London that the North African campaign might be unified under Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower who would be elevated to full general.

This would extend his command to the British Eighth Army whose forward units already have crossed the Tripolitanian border into Tunisia.

Nazis Start Razing of Harbor at Marseille

By the Associated Press
The German radio announced today that the razing of the old harbor district of Marseille in southern France from which the inhabitants had been moved was started yesterday.

The Berlin broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, declared that "buildings of historical, architectural and archeological value will be preserved." Buildings spared were said to include the 17th century townhall, the municipal administration building, St. Lawrence's church, the old customs building and a number of patrician houses.

The broadcast denied reports from Marseille by way of Switzerland "that violent collisions had taken place in the evacuation of this district and that numerous people had been killed." It declared that "not a single shot had been fired and evacuation was carried through without incident."

German Sixth Army Facing Destruction

HIGHLIGHTS OF CONFERENCES EMPHASIZED

Chief Executive, Talking to Reporters, Supplies New Details of Historic African Trip

TO FULFILL PROMISE

Washington, Feb. 2.—(P)—President Roosevelt said today his Casablanca conference with Winston Churchill was one to win the war and to fulfill the promise he made in his annual message to Congress that the United Nations would strike hard in Europe.

The chief executive, talking at a press conference, spoke principally in generalities of the meeting and supplied most of the new details in the nature of anecdotes.

But he did emphasize the words of his January message in which he promised new blows at the Axis in Europe and said that his parley with Churchill was in fulfillment of that declaration.

Mr. Roosevelt said that he thought the highlight of the North African meeting was the formal reemphasis placed on a belief that there should be no negotiated armistice, only an unconditional surrender by the Axis.

There were two highlights, Mr. Roosevelt said, of his stop on the way home to talk with President Vargas of Brazil.

One, he explained, is the greatly increased effort Brazil is making to combat submarines. The second, he said, is an agreement that the peace to come must eliminate any future threat from the African coast to the position of this hemisphere lying closest to Africa.

Minister to Australia To Be Appointed Soon

Washington, Feb. 2.—(P)—President Roosevelt told his press conference today he hoped to make a new appointment soon of a minister to Australia in place of the withdrawn nomination of Edward J. Flynn, former Democratic national committee chairman.

Asked about reports that Joseph C. Grew, former ambassador to Japan, might be sent to Australia, the president said he had made no decision.

The president dwelt at some length on the situation in French North Africa, especially the political problems. He said he thought things were going along pretty well. The problem in North Africa, he said, is essentially a military one.

After giving a word of praise to the press and radio for living up faithfully to the request of the Office of Censorship that secrecy be maintained about the movements of his party, the president noted that he never was out of touch with Washington, even while traveling by air. He placed the length of his trip at 16,965 miles.

The whole journey, Mr. Roosevelt said, was essentially a military mission. At Casablanca, he said, plans were drafted for winning the war—drafted as far ahead as possible—and in this case they covered the calendar year 1943.

Mr. Roosevelt reported that he and Churchill and their combined staffs had reached unanimous agreement on how to fulfill the statement he made in his January message.

The conferees were in complete touch with Joseph Stalin and Generalissimo Chiang-Kai-Shek, he added, speaking with a measure of sarcasm about suggestions which he said came from certain people that those two leaders should have been in on the parley. He directed attention to the fact that that is not at war with Japan and that China is so situated geographically she can do nothing in the war against Germany.

Fighting Men Better Start Answering Mail

Washington, Feb. 2.—(P)—Uncle Sam's fighting men are receiving more letters than they are sending.

Postal officials disclosed during hearings on the postoffice appropriation bill reported to the house today that for every letter sent out of service camps, two are sent in, and on the basis of selected tests in army camps, the average soldier sends out 4.6 pieces of first-class mail weekly.

Handling this free outgoing mail costs the government an estimated $43,617,000 a year.

Withholding Tax Proposed By Treasury

Plan Offered at Hearing Contrary to Ruml Suggestions

WOULD NOT SKIP YEAR

Washington, Feb. 2.—(P)—Enactment of pay-as-you-go tax legislation to provide a 19 per cent withholding tax after deductions for millions of America's income tax payers was urged today by the treasury.

It flatly opposed the Ruml plan to skip one year of tax liability to make income payments current.

Treasury officials said the proposed new levy would be in addition to the five per cent victory tax, now being withheld from paychecks. That would make the total federal withholding tax 24 per cent after deductions, with a portion of the victory levy being set aside for post-war refund unless the taxpayer provides for certain purposes at the end of each tax year.

Randolph E. Paul, treasury general counsel, stressed the importance of prompt action as he told the house ways and means committee that a 19 per cent withholding tax, equivalent to the levy provided for by the normal six per cent income tax plus the 13 per cent surtax rate on the first bracket, would simplify the collection problem and avoid unnecessary refunds.

The normal tax and first bracket of surtax income includes the first $2,000 of taxable income after deductions.

Paul told the committee that inauguration of the collection at the source system "should certainly not begin later than July 1 of this year."

Paul added, however, that "this is not to say that some discount, or even a certain amount of forgiveness, may not be found to be desirable for the same reason."

Paul said that "it seems imperative" that the collection at the source system should be based on marital and dependency exemptions allowed under the law.

JUDGE SOFFEL ON BENCH

Pittsburgh, Feb. 2.—(P)—Common Pleas Judge Sara M. Soffel became yesterday the first woman jurist to sit in Allegheny criminal court. Suffering from myalgia, she couldn't speak above a whisper. But she made herself understood with a gavel and the services of a friendly tipstaff.

Bill Is Aimed At Patronage

Harrisburg, Feb. 2.—(P)—The 1943 Pennsylvania legislature's first patronage fight developed today over a proposal to give the Republican administration several hundred jobs now controlled by Democratic Auditor General F. Clair Ross.

Authority to appoint inheritance and mercantile tax clerks and apportioners would be shifted from the auditor general to the revenue department under a bill introduced by Senator George Woodward (R-Philadelphia).

Democratic whip Edward J. Coleman of Lackawanna, however, declared his party "of course will vigorously oppose any move to transfer control of these employees," adding "we feel that the auditor general was elected for four years and during his term of office should retain his control."

Republican efforts to strip Ross' department of the jobs have been indicated since the general election campaign in which the auditor general repeatedly clashed with Revenue Secretary Edward B. Logan and former Governor Arthur H. James over supervision of tax workers.

DEPENDENCY DEFERMENTS RECLASSIFIED

Drastic New Order For Workers Is Issued By War Manpower Commission Today

EFFECTIVE APRIL 1ST

BY CHARLES MOLONEY
Washington, Feb. 2.—(P)—Dependency draft deferment—even for men with children—will be wiped out for countless thousands under a new order issued by the War Manpower Commission's Selective Service Bureau today to take effect April 1.

Designed to impel transfer of draft eligibles from non-essential to essential work, the order, departing completely from any issued heretofore, sets up a list of activities and job-occupations which are to be "non-deferrable," regardless of dependents, after April 1.

WMC Chairman Paul V. McNutt emphasized that the list was "just beginning" and that it would be expanded "from time to time" to cover other jobs. He hinted strongly that these expansions would eliminate dependency deferment altogether.

Testing before a congressional committee today, McNutt said that "by the end of this year 10 out of every 14 of the able bodied men between 18 and 38 will be in the armed services."

Informed manpower sources, declining to be quoted by name, expressed opinion that the 3-A classification for men with dependents would disappear during this year as the fighting forces and labor demands of war industries increase.

The list, which WMC Chairman Paul V. McNutt called "just a beginning" in a broad hint that dependency deferments are being narrowed generally to relieve labor shortages in war industries, covers:

1. A job-occupations in 19 manufacturing, eight wholesale and retail trade, and nine service activities.

2. Twenty-nine job occupations "non-deferrable regardless of the activity in which they are found," even if it is one of the 35 activities which have been designated as essential for purposes of occupational deferment.

In the first group are: Manufacturing—Curtains, drapery, and bedspreads, pleating, stitching, tucking, and embroidery; trappings, stamped art goods, and art needlework; cut, beveled, and etched glass; cutware; glass novelties; mosaic glass; stained, leaded, ornamental and decorated glass; jewelry; fixings and materials; jewelry; lapidary work; ornamental gold and silver leaf and foil (non-industrial); silverware and plated ware (non-industrial).

Concern Over Inflation Is Increasing

Washington, Feb. 2.—(P)—Mounting concern of treasury officials over the danger of inflation and the need for increased taxation and government borrowing to reduce the public's purchasing power was disclosed today by the house appropriations committee.

In testimony before a subcommittee in connection with the department's financial needs for the next 12 months—first appropriations bill of the 78th congress—Undersecretary of the Treasury Daniel W. Bell declared:

"There has been a substantial price rise. I do not think it has been enough to materially hurt anybody, but I think the basis is here for tremendous inflation."

"You have all this money going into the hands of individuals, estimated at something like $130,000,000,000 during this calendar year, and I believe that only about $15,000,000,000 is estimated as the amount that will be taken away in personal taxes."

Bell appeared before the committee on Jan. 18. Speaking before the same committee in executive session on Dec. 10, Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau had said that the national income would reach a new peak this year.

"I do not see any danger of runaway inflation right now. I think the thing is under fairly good control, but it is something you have to watch every single minute. You cannot rest a minute on that."

West Side Fire Station To Be Acquired By Struthers-Wells To Permit Expansion

Borough Has Option On Vacant Lot in Penn'a Ave., for New Building

REPORTS ARE RECEIVED

In line with the expansion policy of the Struthers-Wells Company, action was taken by the town council last evening whereby the Struthers-Wells Company building will be acquired by the Struthers-Wells Company.

The purchase price is $5,000. The sale is made under an old act of the general assembly which allows Warren borough to sell lands on the banks of the Allegheny river which became the property of the borough when the town was laid out. The fire station which is hereby sold is a two-story brick structure almost 182 feet and four inches in depth. The purchase price is $750. Upon this it is proposed to erect a one-story fire station at a cost of approximately $8,000. Applications for priorities have been filed with the War Production Board and council has been advised the priorities are being acted upon. This site will be more centrally located for reaching manufacturing and residential districts of the section of the city the men of Engine Company No. 3 are prepared to protect.

In line with the desire of the Struthers-Wells Company to use the newly acquired building as soon as possible, arrangements (Turn to Page Seven)

Dies Rebuked In Congress

Washington, Feb. 2.—(P)—Congress today was faced with the demand of Rep. Dies (D-Texas) to purge the government of "irresponsible, unrepresentative, crackpot and radical bureaucrats" by withholding funds from the agencies.

Republicans and Democrats applauded Dies yesterday as he made a two-hour speech, in which he voiced direct charges of Communist affiliations against some two score persons in government positions.

But, when he finished, Rep. Will Rogers (D-Calif.), son of the late humorist, in his first speech since becoming a member of the house, said:

"I should like it to be known that I disagree with the sentiments expressed, the flamboyant manner of expression used, and the use of this great forum as a means of what we in Hollywood would call personal publicity."

Dies told the house that persons of un-American views have engaged in a conspiracy to "smear congress and discredit its members."

DISASTER AT STALINGRAD IN FINAL HOURS

Hitler Command Announces Defensive Ring Around Trappea Troops Has Been Breached

CORRIDOR IS MENACED

BULLETIN
Moscow, Feb. 2.—(P)—Captured Germans and their allies, shivering in an icy wind, filled the broken, blasted streets of Stalingrad today as the Russian army methodically slaughtered others who still offered some resistance in a northern sector of the formerly besieged city.

Bombs, shells, machinegun and sniper fire were wiping out those who continued to resist.

By the Associated Press
The destruction of the German Sixth Army at Stalingrad—perhaps the greatest single disaster in the history of German arms—was in its final hours.

The German high command announced that the defensive ring of the last of the trapped troops had been breached and that the Russians had broken into "the last bulwark of the defenders."

The Russians announced their closest penetration to Rostov with the occupation of Zernovoy and Verbyud in the thrust up the railroad from Salsk through the town of Mechetinskaya.

The noon communiqué that resistance was collapsing indicated that the sweep toward Rostov was gaining momentum in sharp menace to the last land escape corridor for perhaps 200,000 Germans hurled back into the northwest Caucasus.

One Russian force was 56 miles northeast of Krasnodar, one of the Nazis' last bases in the western Caucasus, in a thrust down the rail line from Tikhoretsk. Another, driving up from the Maikop oil fields, was 30 miles southeast of the base.

Kursk, fortified link between the German central and southern front defense lines, was menaced anew by a frontal drive which the Russians said carried through Khen, half-way to 18-mile advance from captured Kastornaya. The salient was widened by the Red army's occupation of the town of Yastrebovka, 30 miles south of Khen.

Tightening the pincers closing upon Kharkov, the main German stronghold south of Kursk the Russians seized Svatova, 95 miles (Turn to Page Seven)

No Official Report On Groundhog's Prediction

Quarryville, Feb. 2.—(P)—The world and Adolf Hitler missed out today on a chance to learn whether there'll be nice bombing weather in the northeast these next six weeks.

It was Candlemas Day, of course, and the famed groundhog of Quarryville undoubtedly emerged from his sidehill hibernation and looked around in his shadow—but no one ever will know officially whether he saw it.

The war and the serious illness of Hibernating Governor George W. Hensel, Jr., forced the Quarryville Lodge of Slumbering Groundhogs to postpone its annual pilgrimage to the groundhog's hole.

If he saw the shadow, true believers say, six more weeks of wintry weather can be expected. If he didn't, spring is practically here.

Not knowing what to expect, the members of the Slumbering Lodge also cancelled their yearly parade and dinner, part of their usual celebration of groundhog day.

Seizure of 7 Million Private Passenger Cars Is Suggested

BY WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, Feb. 2.—(P)—A War Department recommendation for the seizure of an estimated 7,000,000 private passenger automobiles and the fifth tire on all the nation's 27,000,000 passenger vehicles went into the record of a congressional committee studying the rubber situation today.

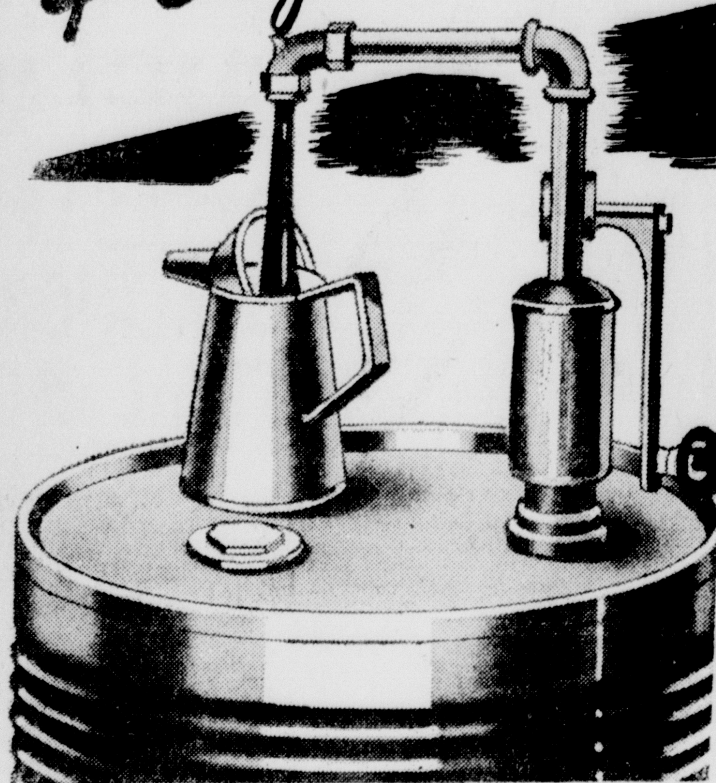

It came from Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson, one of three witnesses who testified yesterday concerning a bitter priority fight between the army and the navy on one side and Rubber Director William M. Jeffers on the other.

Patterson told a joint house naval-military committee that severe recommendations he had made to Jeffers last December for conservation of rubber had not been acted on.

In addition to seizing all passenger car spare tires and all passenger vehicles in excess of 20,000,000, the owners to be reimbursed by the government—Patterson said he had recommended a ban on all Sunday and holiday driving that was not directly connected with the war effort; a ban on the long distance hauling on freight and passenger by trucks (Turn to Page Seven)

Much Business of Importance Is Disposed of at February Meeting of Borough Council

With only a quorum present the Town Council met last evening and transacted a large grist of business setting the millage for this year and also adopting the annual budget. The millage was set at 16 mills and the budget as printed in the Times-Mirror following the last Council meeting was adopted. Fees of the Tax Collector at one-half of one per cent on all taxes collected to January 1st, 1944 and four per cent on all taxes collected thereafter.

Employees of the street department presented a petition asking for a 20 per cent increase in their hourly wage. The employees formerly worked 52 hours per week and now work 40 and the hourly rate now paid does not make their wages as much as they were several years ago.

Indian Run, perennial topic, in Council meetings was again to the fore. It was reported that should Council build flood walls as suggested it would open the way for a heavy expenditure on other lands along the run. Thumbs down were turned on the suggestion.

The police reports showed 66 calls; 19 investigations, two fire calls answered and 259 complaints acted upon during the past month. $15.25 in fines were collected and $150 worth of stolen goods recovered.

The parking meter collections reported were $560 for the month as against over $700 for the corresponding period last year.

Burgess Steber reported relative to work under way of caring for prisoners who cannot pay their fines. A meeting with the County Commissioners relative to boarding the men at the county jail is being arranged.

The fire committee deferred the election of a chief and captains for another month. Nine fires with a loss of $359.50 loss were reported during the past month.

One building permit with a fee of $2 was reported during the past month.

Ordinances relative to licenses for theatres and fees for circuses, carnivals, etc., were presented. The one relative to theatres was passed and action on the other deferred. They are merely being brought up to date for inclusion in the new ordinance book to be printed soon.

A resolution was passed establishing a Warren County Borough Association which will operate for the welfare of the boroughs in the county. It was reported that a meeting has been held with representatives of all of the boroughs in the county with the exception of Tidoute whose representatives due to bad roads could not get here. This meeting held January 13 showed much enthusiasm for the project.

Wednesday evening the first of a series of sessions of a school to train borough council members and employees in their duties will open in the Council chamber, with Harold Hampson as instructor and a text book prepared by the State Department of Education.

It was called to the attention of Council that the State Convention of Boroughs will be held at Harrisburg February 26, 27 and 28. President Waite was empowered to appoint a delegation to attend.

One of the most comprehensive reviews of borough fiscal and other affairs was laid on the desk of each councilman last evening by Mrs. M. L. Dougherty. The compilation covered departmental expenses to December 31 and is noteworthy for its completeness and conciseness.

Speaker Stresses Production As Feature in March to Victory

With an earnestness and enthusiasm, as well as oratorical ability, which held his hearers in rapt attention for a period of time which under ordinary circumstances would have tired an audience, Carroll B. Huntress delivered a stirring and inspirational address to the hundred foremen and guests gathered for the annual Executives Night dinner-meeting of the Foremen's Club, held at the Y. M. C. A. last evening.

Mr. Huntress, who is vice president of the Republic Coal & Coke Company of New York City and here last night as one of the Speakers Committee of the National Association of Manufacturers, issued a ringing challenge for plus effort and unity in production for victory. His topic was "Building the Arsenal of Democracy" and he was a man with a message—a message backed by experience, ability and knowledge.

A guest executive stated after the meeting: "A thousand Warren men should have heard that address instead of a hundred." With great power and conviction Mr. Huntress told of the retarding factors, such as carelessness, selfishness, dissension along labor, lack of appreciation of the seriousness of our country's situation, which must be dealt with successfully as soon as possible. His hearers thrilled to the story of accomplishment in 1942, but felt shame upon learning of the little things which had been permitted to interfere with our doing our best. Closing a splendid address on a high spiritual note, Mr. Huntress called for an abiding faith in God which would make the slogan on our coins—"In God We Trust"—a phrase of significance.

Preceding the address, a fine musical program was rendered by Roger Webster, vocal soloist, with Alden Johnson as accompanist, and by Harold Knappenberger, trumpet, with Arylene MacLaughlin as accompanist. The selections offered by these artists were well received and much appreciated. Group singing was led by William Gaughan, with Lloyd Van Tassel at the piano.

The president of the Foremen's Club, Hilmar Roos, presided. A good meal was served at 6:30 o'clock by a group of foremen's wives, in charge of Mrs. Roos, General Secretary Ralph Wagner of the "Y" welcomed the diners, particularly the guest executives, expressing appreciation of their interest in the work of the Foremen's Club. He also called attention to the date of the next regular meeting on March 1, when Dr. Leonard Rosenzweig will be the speaker.

BRIAN DONLEVY AND VERONICA LAKE IN THRILLING MYSTERY DRAMA

At Library Theatre Wednesday and Thursday

Mystery, in the best Dashiell Hammett manner, spiced with suspense, action and romance, is said to be all present and accounted for in the film version of his best-seller, "The Glass Key," which is due to arrive Wednesday and Thursday at the Library Theatre.

Produced by Paramount, the film stars Brian Donlevy, Veronica Lake and Alan Ladd, supported by Bonita Granville, Richard Denning, Joseph Calleia and William Bendix. Veronica and Ladd made movie history together in "This Gun For Hire," and authoritative sources have it that they ring the bell again with their team work in the pictureization of this widely-read murder mystery.

"The Glass Key" is said to be crammed full of the kind of suspenseful action which characterized Dashiell Hammett's highly successful "Thin Man" and "The Maltese Falcon." Casting it with such outstanding stars as Brian Donlevy, Veronica Lake and Alan Ladd is added assurance that movie fans are due for a thoroughly enjoyable time.

The average child's vocabulary at one year is three words; at two about 200; at three about 800.

There are more than 131,000 miles of petroleum pipelines in the United States.

Double Rites Wednesday For Victims

Double rites will be held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Sage Funeral Home in Tidoute for the victims of the county's latest tragedy, Charles Griffin, 56, and his housekeeper, Mrs. Julia Brannon, 58, found dead in the former's farm home in Triumph township on Sunday.

Rev. H. M. Stevenson, pastor of the Tidoute Methodist church, will officiate for the services and interment of both persons will take place in Tidoute cemetery.

County authorities and Pennsylvania Motor Police officials are continuing their investigation into the double deaths, but nothing new has come to light to explain either the motive or the manner in which Mr. Griffin and Mrs. Brannon were killed.

Besides her husband and three children, it is learned that Mrs. Brannon leaves three sisters, Effie Emerson, of Grand Valley; Mary Collins and Alice Hourth, both of Titusville.

ObituaryVICTOR BERGQUIST

Funeral services in memory of Victor Bergquist, of Ludlow, were held Saturday afternoon from the Mission church, conducted by Rev. W. W. Nylund, pastor of the church where Mr. Bergquist had been an active member for many years. Two songs, "O Jesu kar nar vill du hamta mig" and "Face to Face" were sung by Mrs. Amelia Mattison, Mrs. Gust E. Anderson and Mrs. W. W. Nylund. Interment was made in Gibbs Hill cemetery at Ludlow, the bearers being Oliver Nelson, David Peterson, Ernest Carlson, Adolph Johnson, Herman Hanson and Arthur Christenson. Honorary bearers were Ben Connelly, Gust L. Carlson, Leo Johnson, Ned Johnson, Carl J. Anderson, Velgot Mortenson, Emil Erickson and B. J. Anderson.

Among those in attendance were his sister, Mrs. D. S. Campbell, of Cohasset, Mass., and two brothers, John Bergquist and Mrs. Bergquist, Waldemar Bergquist and Mrs. Bergquist, of Dorchester, Mass.; also relatives from mWarren, Youngsville and Geneva, N. Y., and friends from Jamestown, N. Y., Youngsville, Warren, Sheffield, Frewsburg, N. Y., Kane and Erie.

MISS HELEN SWANSON

The body of Miss Ellen Swanson, who died early Sunday morning at her home in Collingswood, N. J., will arrive here by train Wednesday evening and will be removed to the Peterson Funeral Home, where friends may call after 8:30 o'clock. Funeral services will be held from there at three o'clock Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Bertil Edquist, St. Paul's Lutheran minister. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

Miss Swanson, who has a number of relatives here in Warren, leaves one brother and one sister, Milton and Jane Swanson, both of Collingswood. She was a member of the Zion Lutheran church in Philadelphia.

J. A. WATSON

J. A. Watson, 49, an employee of the state highway department and brother of Frank L. Watson, superintendent of Forest county schools, was found dead about 10:30 a. m. Monday in his quarters at a rooming house at 1207 Eagle street, Franklin.

According to the coroner Watson had been dead several hours.

He was born at Nebraska, the son of Leon and Anna Silze Watson and had resided in Forest county most of his life. Mr. Watson was a graduate of Pennsylvania State college. During the first World war he served for 20 months overseas with the U. S. army engineers. Four years ago he was elected Forest county auditor.

Mr. Watson was a member of the Olive Lodge, No. 557, F. and A. M. Tionesta.

Mr. Watson was employed as a senior inspector by the state highway department at the Franklin maintenance division since April, 1940. He was not married.

Surviving are two brothers, Frank L. Watson of Tionesta and William Watson of Philadelphia, and a sister, Mrs. Harold C. Seigworth, of Tionesta.

A funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Watson home in Tionesta, with Rev. Fred Morris, pastor of Tionesta Methodist church, officiating. Interment will be in Mt. Collins cemetery at Tionesta.

MRS. WHITMORE'S FUNERAL

Funeral services for Mrs. Elmina Andrews Whitmore, wife of Frank Whitmore of East Hickory, who died at her home in East Hickory, Friday evening, were held Monday afternoon in Youngsville at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Maude Beckenbach at 205 High street.

The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. H. M. Stevenson of Tidoute. The ladies of the local Lady Grey Rebekah Lodge, of which Mrs. Whitmore was a member, conducted at the home the funeral rites of the order.

Burial was made in the Youngsville cemetery where her first husband Lee Andrews is buried. Bearers, friends and former neighbors in Youngsville were F. S. Agnew, Dr. G. E. Mix, Michael Brady, L. L. Johnson, Peter Beckenbach and Charles Jones.

Mrs. Elmina Andrews Whitmore was born in Tidoute, February 23rd, 1863. She was married to Lee Andrews and lived for many years in Youngsville. Eighteen years ago, after the death of Mr. Andrews, she was married to Frank Whitmore and since that time they have lived in East Hickory, where she was respected and admired as in Youngsville. The last year of her life was spent in ill health.

She is survived by her husband, Frank Whitmore, one daughter, Mrs. Maude Andrews of Youngsville and six step children, Mrs. Herman Sinnigen and Mrs. Dolph King of Philadelphia; Mrs. Tokarski, Steamberg, N. Y.; Frank Whitmore, Jr., Colicore, Ark.; Simon Whitmore Buffalo, N. Y., and Ralph Whitmore, Erie Pa. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. Edna Baumgardner, Tionesta and one brother, James Hood of Lander, Wyoming; two granddaughters, Mrs. Mariam Anderson of Youngsville and Miss Mary Skinner of Batavia, N. Y., and one great grandson, Glenn Anderson of Youngsville.

Guests from away in attendance at the funeral were Mrs. Sinnigen of Philadelphia, Ralph Whitmore of Erie, Mrs. Walter Brennan of Meadville; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Baumgardner and Mr. and Mrs. William Baumgardner of Tionesta and number of friends from East Hickory.

SocietyMother of Actor Is Home From Visit In Southern City

Mrs. Harry Rapp, Redwood street, is home from a very pleasant vacation of two weeks in Jacksonville and St. Petersburg, Fla., visiting in the former city with her son, Richard, currently touring the south with the Clara Tree Major Children's Theatre and headed north for a number of engagements.

One of these will be in Warren in late March. Young Rapp is a member of the Clara Tree Major cast for "Beauty and the Beast", the story of the Mohammedan merchant and his three daughters, which is scheduled here next month under the Community Council PTA sponsorship.

The same play is being given in Philadelphia on Saturday of this week, sponsored by the Women's International League, long engaged in campaigning for peace and freedom and convinced that movements like the Children's Theatre are healthful counter-stimulants to the tensions of war.

Mrs. John H. Arnett, secretary of the League's play committee, is quoted as saying that "the war makes it particularly necessary for emphasis to be laid on activities which provide a healthful and normal stimulus to the child's mind and imagination."

Next on the PTA play schedule for Warren is "Pinocchio", brought to the screen in Walt Disney drawings and to be seen here on Monday, February 15.

Social EventsHOME STREET CLUB

Home Street Mothers' Club members held a fine meeting at the school building Monday evening, with an attendance of about 45. An interesting talk on "Safe-guarding the Young Child" was given by Mrs. Paul Harrington and Mrs. Dwight Sizle was at the piano for accompaniments to two pleasing songs by Mrs. Carl Lindquist. To conclude, refreshments were served by Mrs. F. Kishauer and her committee: Mrs. C. T. Berdine, Mrs. Ward Bauer, Mrs. Edward Flick and Mrs. Edwin Hinton.

On display were the Childcraft books ordered by the club at the December meeting for presentation to the school. These attracted a great deal of interest and attention.

JEWISH AUXILIARY

Jewish Ladies' Auxiliary members turned out in a large number last night for the tureen supper, business session and interesting program given in the synagogue social rooms.

Miss Margaret Grinnell, of the Warren State Hospital staff, was presented as guest speaker, giving a fine talk on occupational therapy and picturing the training and requirements of a registered occupational therapy worker. She told some of the types of work done in tuberculosis sanitariums, veterans' hospitals and mental institutions. To conclude, all participated in a question period.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Saturday afternoon little Miss Charlotte Wynona Stone was honored with a party at her home, 411 Hazel street, marking her third birthday anniversary. The birthday table was beautifully done in orange and yellow with favors of paper bonnets, balloons and whistles. Parties were set for the following guests: Roberta Ann Elmhorst, Sally Ann Slate, Susan E. Ott, Mary Gagliardi, Diane Lord, Ann Wendelboe and Sandra Stone. Games and stunts were enjoyed, with prizes awarded to Roberta Ann Elmhorst, Sandra Stone, Susan Ott and Mary Gagliardi.

DORCAS CLASS

Dorcas Class members of the First Lutheran church will hold their annual mid-winter "picnic" at the church at 6:30 p. m. Thursday, Dr. J. A. Davidson, pastor of the First Baptist church, will give a talk and show pictures on the Mediterranean area.

RUSSELL WSOS

Russell, Feb. 2—WSOS members will meet at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the church for an interesting program on "Christians' Part in Bringing a Just and Durable Peace". Mrs. Leslie Putnam will lead the panel discussion.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

Sigma Tau Delta Sorority members will hold their regular meeting at 7:30 this evening at the home of Miss Patty Storum, Jackson avenue, and all are asked to be on hand.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

The monthly meeting and work meeting of the Warren General Hospital Auxiliary will be held in the auxiliary room in the maternity building at 1:30 p. m. Friday. All members and friends are asked to be on hand.

PHILOMEL MEETING

Mrs. Allie Russell, president, has asked for a good turnout of members for the business meeting of Philomel Club at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon at the clubhouse.

Art Department To Elect Next Month

Art Department members attending the monthly meeting at the Woman's Club Monday afternoon heard the department chairman, Mrs. J. F. Baldwin, name Mrs. Harold Banghart, Mrs. J. H. Goldstein and Miss Inez Leake as a nominating committee to present officers for election in March.

Mrs. A. C. Flick, Jr., announced she would give the book review at Literature Department meeting next Monday, substituting for Mrs. Paul Coe.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Alta Chapel that members must realize the necessity and importance of aiding the county art committee through collections of tin, silk and nylon stockings and cooking fats.

For the program, Mrs. Olive Huff, of the Warren Public Library staff, told interestingly of art books recently purchased as memorial to deceased club members and displayed a number of books on the same subject.

To conclude, tea was served in the club dining room, with Mrs. E. A. Wood and Mrs. E. Hagenlocher presiding.

Social EventsAUXILIARY MEETS

Lewis M. Clark Auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, held its regular meeting at eight o'clock Monday evening in the American Legion Home. In charge were the following officers who were recently installed for the new year: President, Winnie Jaynes; senior vice president, Grace Mook; junior vice president, Mary James; chaplain, Elmore Armstrong; conductress, Ella Walters; assistant, Mary Blocher; patriotic instructor, Hilda Rohlin; guard, Alice Ladd; sergeant, Mary Root; historian, Deleta Olsen; secretary, Bertha Lyons; treasurer, Lorena See; reporter, Ella Walters.

The women planned a tureen supper and program in commemoration of Maine Day on February 15.

SECOND BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Mary Jane York entertained a group of friends Sunday afternoon in honor of the second birthday anniversary of her son, Ronnie. He received many nice remembrances from Mary Lee Porter, Jackie Lee Colvin, Karen Jean Wise, Johnny Colvin, Jr., Dickie Sorenson, Dennis Lee York, Miss Marjorie Anderson and Mrs. Willis Toennig, Warren; Mrs. Harold Stromberg and daughters, Sandra and Jo-Ann, of Bradford.

FOR RECENT BRIDE

Mrs. H. A. Roos and Mrs. T. N. Dunham were hostesses for a kitchen shower Friday evening at the home of the former, 1619 Pennsylvania avenue, east, honoring her niece, Mrs. James Torrance, the former Miss Audrey Cobb. Games were enjoyed and prizes awarded the winners.

Mrs. Torrance was previously honored with a miscellaneous shower given by another aunt, Mrs. Emil H. Johnson, 124 Russell street.

MIRIAM SOCIETY

At 2:30 p. m. Thursday Miriam Missionary Society members will meet at St. Paul's Lutheran church, entertained by Mrs. Emil Sequist, Mrs. T. N. Dunham, Mrs. Carl Look, Mrs. Elmer Sequist and Mrs. Carl Johnson.

LADIES' AID

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church will meet at the parsonage at two o'clock Thursday afternoon. Officers are to be elected and all members are urged to be present.

PHI ZETA CHI

The regular meeting of the Phi Zeta Chi Sorority will be held Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Joan Beyer, 104 Home street, and all members are urged to be present.

IN APPRECIATION

We wish to thank the Russell Fire Department, Ladies Auxiliary, friends and neighbors for their kindness in helping us at the time of our recent fire.

Ludlow Church Is Scene Of Impressive Service On Sunday

Ludlow, Jan. 31—The 61st anniversary of the founding of the Moriah Evangelical Lutheran church was celebrated on Sunday January 31st at 3 p. m., with the rededication service of the recently remodeled church building.

Dr. Felix V. Hanson of Jamestown, N. Y., president of the New York Conference of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, who was the officiating pastor, gave a very inspiring rededication address.

In the course of this address, he referred to the organization of the New York Conference at Wilcox, in 1870. This conference was attended by two pastors, and three laymen. At that time, there were only four congregations from Maine to Chicago, with a membership of 1063. Today, the same territory is divided into two conferences, the New England, and the New York, with two hundred congregations, 150 pastors, and a membership of 70,000.

Dr. Hanson was assisted in the service by Rev. Carl Gronquist, of the Ludlow Moriah Lutheran church, Rev. Wallace Johnson, Hassel Valley church at Chander Valley, Rev. Bertil Edquist, of St. Paul's church, Warren, Rev. W. Nylund, of the Emmanuel Mission church, Kane and Rev. C. A. Leslie, of the Tabor Lutheran church, Kane.

In addition to the program, which follows, was the singing of two songs by five small girls, who made their initial appearance at a recent Luther League meeting. These children were: Doris Johnson, Vera Johnson, Joanna Johnson, Vivian Nelson, and Catherine Swanson.

Opening hymn 277—"Here, in Thy Name, Eternal God"—Schumann.

Rededication Address—Dr. Felix V. Hanson, President of the New York Conference.

Anthem—"A Song of Praise"—Ramler—Choir.

Save Gas

... and speed our war production

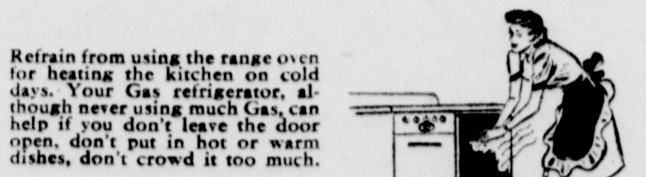

Cold waves, striking suddenly, build up without warning a demand for Natural Gas nearly double the usual demand. This creates a serious problem, considering that 50% of all Natural Gas here is going into war plants.

Everything possible has been done by your Natural Gas company to meet peak demand this winter, to keep every home from suffering, to keep every war plant operating.

But, just to reduce the chances of interruption to war work, you can help materially to speed the war effort by following a few simple suggestions to conserve Natural Gas during cold waves. Read them and see how minor they are compared to the hardships our boys are enduring on distant fronts.

Will you help see to it that no war production is interrupted? It's one definite way you can help win the war.

Here's what you can do to help in a cold wave!

Set your thermostat lower during the day, still further at night. Put your heating system in tip-top operation.

Don't use small gas room heaters on day after day. Shut off rooms not in actual use.

Repair leaky faucets, insulate pipes and tanks, don't leave hot water run while washing, set thermostat at a minimum and run less water in the tub for bathing.

Economize in use of range by using low blue flame, cutting down on amount of water for cooking vegetables, cook more one-dish meals, keep burners clean.

Close bedroom doors at night; see that bedroom doors at night; use rugs to keep down heat leaks under doors.

Natural Gas is vital to war industries

... Use it wisely!

CIVIS ROMANUS SUM

When a citizen of ancient Rome said "Civis Romanus Sum" he was saying simply "I am a Roman citizen." But the meaning was far more impressive than the mere words. For, in effect, he was expressing his pride in being part of the greatest empire on earth. He was wearing the proudest title thus far known in history—"Civis Romanus."

In this total war of 1943 we Americans have the right to be proud of the emblem of our nationhood. Our ships are on the seven seas of the world. Our soldiers are on all continents. Our image is in the hearts of millions of suffering and dying people everywhere. "I am an American citizen" is indeed a mighty boast.

But, if America is to be great, it will be so only because its states are great, its counties are great, its towns are great, and its people are great. We are sending our boys. But are we also buying bonds? Are we also saving scrap of all kinds? Are we giving our blood?

Warren county has a right to be proud of its record on all the home fronts. It has met its bond quotas. Its Civilian Defense organization has won state-wide praise and imitation. Its Salvage effort has been extraordinary.

On Thursday at 1:15 a crowd—and we hope it will be a large one—will gather at the county court house to witness a ceremony celebrating our success in the Salvage effort. The Victory Pennant awarded by the State Salvage Committee will rise to the top of the flagpole, as a symbol of Warren county's presence on the Honor Roll of Pennsylvania counties in the per capita collection of scrap.

Not only was Warren county on the Honor Roll, but it stood second in the entire state with a per capita collection of 240 pounds, surpassed only by McKean county. Credit for this remarkable achievement goes to B. S. Knabenshue and Mrs. E. P. Wroth, first co-chairmen of the committee and its organizers; and to that dynamo of energy, the present chairman of the committee, Wylie T. Corbett. It goes also to the thousands of people who have helped in one way or another: Chairmen in the various communities and industries; the Consumers' Committee, now under Mrs. Harry Conarro; officials, teachers and students of the schools throughout the county; the junk men who have been called upon for an extraordinary effort; and the just plain people who have dug into the attics and basements of their homes for salvage material.

The ceremony at the court house will not be a long one. Every Warren county citizen who can should be present.

We have a right to be proud to say "I am a citizen of Warren county" as the Victory Pennant floats in the breeze.

UNHAPPY ANNIVERSARY

The Third Reich didn't have a very happy birthday party in Berlin on Saturday. There was no flag waving, by official order. There was a rather dispirited droop to the oratory. And there were those impudent neighbors from across the channel who had the bad taste to heckle the speakers.

The RAF's birthday "singograms" came whining down from the skies and landed with a disconcerting thud just about the time Goering and Goebbels were clearing their throats before launching forth in the familiar defense of the boss as Europe's savior. It must have been most disconcerting, for it didn't give the speakers any time to amend their remarks in the light of most recent developments.

Goering, Goebbels and Hitler had selected Russia as the main target of their anniversary remarks, and there was no time to change signals. To be sure, Goering had an hour of unfortunate interruption in which he might have made some alterations or additions. But it is conceivable that the Reichsmarshal, between the hours of 11 and noon on Saturday, was more concerned with the protection of his ample and bedizened bulk than he was in the contents of his manuscript.

It will seem strange not to have a fire department housed in the Struthers Hose Company building, but council is to be commended for making it possible for further expansion of the Struthers-Wells.

It was announced at the Nazi's tenth anniversary that Hitler was with his troops. One way of saying he's on his way home.

Anyhow, there'll be six weeks more of weather.

The $500-a-Year-and-Up Question

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—From time to time in these columns, I have advised: "If you don't agree, write your Congressman." Perhaps I have done both Congressmen and readers an injustice in not laying down a few basic rules.

Some Congressmen justifiably go berserk over the letters they receive. One recently received a letter written in almost indecipherable longhand on two sides of 110 pages of legal-size stationery. On page 68, he gave up and doesn't yet know what his constituent was complaining about.

On the positive side, there are many things your Congressman can and is glad to do for you. He can supply you with information, in pamphlet form, if not personally, about almost all the problems that are arising out of this war—rationing, victory gardening, Selective Service, Civilian Defense, now to go about getting commissions in the armed forces, how to obtain citizenship, what to do about obtaining government jobs under civil service, and a thousand other things.

He welcomes your opinions on wartime legislation, on matters considered controversial. And if you have legitimate business that merits your coming to Washington he can make appointments for you—provided you let him know far enough in advance.

IF YOU really want to get your communication considered by your Representative or Senator, here are some good rules:

State your case briefly and simply. If you are mad or glad, state your reasons—but quickly. Whom you know, who your relations are, even what party you belong to isn't of much importance. If you are a bigwig in your community, your Congressman probably knew your name before you knew his. Unless a matter is of such moment that it can't wait, don't telegraph. This is wartime. Anyway, letters receive just as much attention as telegrams, sometimes more.

DON'T join any "write-your-Congressman" movements on any subject. These have been used too often by so-called "pressure groups." Use your own mind and express your own views. Ask yourself: How would I vote if I were representing the majority of the voters in my district? Or, why couldn't I conscientiously vote that way? Settle that with yourself before you write a line. But just because you perhaps belong to the minority, don't think that your opinion isn't welcome or that it won't be given full consideration. There never was a period in this government when constructive criticism was given a higher rating in legislative and executive decisions.

Don't harass your Congressman with vilifications and recriminations. If you disagree, say so.

And finally, if you belong to a club or organization, an authorized letter by your secretary or president or one letter signed by the membership is much more valuable than a shower of individual letters stating the same case.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Dawn of the great unsliced era. I am unhappy to report, seems to have found Hollywood prepared. It looks as if all Hays' chillun got bread-knives.

The canvass is not complete, but first results of my galloping poll indicate that bread-knifed film families far outnumber the bread knifeless.

Walter Huston, Vera Vague, Ann Harding, Olivia De Havilland and many others all knew definitely they were equipped, and only Richard Travis, the pride of Paragould, Ark., confessed knifelessness—he being a new bridegroom and not yet set up for housekeeping.

Miss De Havilland, who hadn't been reading the papers and didn't know that jakey-sliced bread was a war casualty, was delighted to hear it. She said firmly that steps should have been taken long ago because bread was sliced too thick and it was about time the government stepped in, so there.

ANYWAY, Hollywood can still slice bread as thin as it pleases. So I'm chagrined—because my theory, based on years of observation, is that there is a direct relation between thin-sliced bread and wallpaper-climbing at movie cocktail parties.

Cocktail parties are rare nowadays, but the hors d'oeuvre tray—with thin-sliced bread as its soul and foundation—is still with them when they happen. The tray slithers by the hapless guest, whose 5 p. m. appetite is already whetted by a sip of martini, and it dares him in the name of Emily Post to take more than one of its minute adornments.

These are usually damp, wafer-thin, party-shaped dabs of bread buried under mounds of anonymous goo, the taste of which demands two quick cocktails to obliterate same. By this time the victim is ravenous, and starts slithering—he hopes inconspicuously—after the slithering tray in hopes of better luck.

IN THE old days he could settle on a fraction of deviled egg with some confidence, but nowadays he hunts in darkness. So he draws an anchovy tidbit, he thinks, but it is really a string of spiny, salted leather curled up coily on a bed of glue atop a heart-shaped wafer of wet dough. He runs choking for another washer-down, and so on, and on—and after a while he thinks he is Louis B. Mayer and starts handing out M-G-M contracts.

My notebook is full of such sad case-histories. Mr. X, for one, who got muscle-bound sprinting after the non-stop tray, fanatically determined to consume the equivalent of a man-sized sandwich. And Mr. A, who fell flat on his face after two hours—entirely. I was told from frustrated hunger. And poor Mr. B, who developed arms like Atlas from ceaseless reaching after trays, and would have been a fine physical specimen except that his liver dissolved—in the down-wash. All because of thin-sliced bread! But Hollywood is well-knived, and science must wait. And another bitter thought: No matter how thin they slice it, it's still, alas, not bologna.

IRVINE

Irvine, Jan. 27—Members and guests of the Ladies Union were entertained most pleasantly at the home of Mrs. Werner Nyberg on Thursday evening, Jan. 21st. Mrs. Crull chose the subject, "Strange Paths Before Us" for the thought for the devotional part of the evening program. Games were the diversion for the social hour. The serving of delicious refreshments by the hostess followed. Mrs. Ross Walters will entertain on Feb. 18th.

Mrs. Irene Walters passed another milestone in her life on January 18 and while she did not have a party, she found she had many friends to help her to get sick in order to find it out.

CONTAGIOUS COLDS NOW SPREADING!

Fewer colds! ... Shorter colds! ... that's the certified record of Vicks Plan in a great medically-supervised winter test among 2650 children. Right in your own home, this easy guide may do less—or it may even do more for you and your family. But with colds on a rampage, this tested plan is certainly worth trying today! Full details in your package of Vicks. Briefly here's what you do:

OBSERVE a few simple health rules. Live normally. Avoid excesses. Eat simple food. Drink plenty of water. Keep elimination regular. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Avoid crowds and people who have colds.

IF A COLD THREATENS, put a few drops of clinic-tested Vicks VapoRub on each nostril at first sniffle or sneeze. (Use as directed in package.) This effective, specialized medication is expressly designed to aid your natural defense against colds—and if used in time, VapoRub helps prevent many colds from developing. (Even when your head is all stuffed up from a mean head cold, Vicks VapoRub relieves sniffles, sneezes, dryness, makes breathing easier.)

Put VICKS PLAN To Work Today!

WHEN A COLD STRIKES, or slips by all precautions, rub clinic-tested Vicks VapoRub on back, as well as on throat and chest at bedtime. VapoRub penetrates to the congested upper bronchial tubes with soothing medicinal vapors. It stimulates throat, chest, and back surfaces like a warming poultice. This penetrating-stimulating action works for hours to relieve miseries of colds ... invites restful, comforting sleep!

NOTE: If the miserable symptoms of the cold are not relieved promptly—or if more serious trouble seems to threaten—call in your family doctor right away.

TIMES TOPICS

WORKER TO SPEAK

Mrs. Martin Manders, social worker for the Warren County Children's Aid Society, is guest speaker for tonight's meeting of the Warren Exchange Club at Geracinos.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Friends of James H. Lavery, of Wetmore street, who submitted to a serious operation at the Warren General Hospital Monday, will be interested to learn that his condition is reported as quite favorable today.

WILL MEET THURSDAY

Members of the WEA will meet Thursday in the S. F. of A. hall. A tureen dinner will be enjoyed at 6 o'clock and a business meeting will follow at 8. The January and February birthdays will be marked and a Valentine party will also be enjoyed.

FIRST LEAVE HOME

Vincent McCloskey, chief pharmacist's mate in the U. S. Navy and currently located in California, has just returned there after his first leave home in three years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCloskey, of Tidouette, and has seen twelve years' naval service.

GAS SCHOOL TONIGHT

Attention is called to the fact that the public is invited to attend the course to be held this evening in the high school when instructions will be given in chemical warfare and defense. The session will start at 7:30 o'clock and all interested are urged to be present at that time.

INJURED AT ROCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Warren, of New street, have returned home after being called to Rochester, by the serious injury of Mrs. Warren's sister, Bertha Johnson, having received fractures of both legs, and her right arm, a broken pelvis, and severe injury to her back. Cause of the accident has not been learned.

YOUTH FOUND SHOT

William W. Meyers, 26, a General Electric Co. employe, at Erie, was found shot to death Monday in the bedroom of his apartment. The father, Arthur Meyers, discovered the body after his son failed to report for work. Deputy Coroner Frank St. George said the father told him young Meyers became despondent after being thrice rejected for navy enlistment.

CLASS AT RUSSELL

Miss Arlene Schuere, home economics director, will start a class in sewing instruction in Russell next week. The meeting time will be either Tuesday or Thursday and those registering with the school principal, R. C. Huntley, are asked to voice their preference of date. This class offers a splendid opportunity to women of the community and a full class is anticipated.

STATION OWNERS, BEWARE

A drive against gasoline station owners honoring rationing coupons not yet valid was launched in Western Pennsylvania today at the direction of Mr. Walter R. Cartwright, District Manager of the Office of Price Administration. Cartwright dispatched additional investigators on the intensified check on gasoline dealers after flagrant violations were revealed before him at hearings for pleasure driving ban violators. He warned gasoline station operators that they would find themselves unable to replenish their stocks to the extent that improper coupons were accepted. In some cases it appears that gasoline tanks will go dry because of the violation of infractions, Cartwright said. Coupon No. 4 are the only basic rationed type valid now. Their validity extends from January 22 to March 21, 1943.

Children Had Part In March Of Dimes Fund

From spending money given through a Rotary Club fund, every child at the Hoffman Children's Home in Conewago avenue chose to give himself the pleasure of putting a dime into the March of Dimes collection boxes last Saturday.

This was done primarily, it is understood, through thought and remembrance of a young child named Isabelle, infantile paralysis victim who spent six months at the home last year.

After two one-half years at the Zern Hospital in Erie, she is now located at the Pittsburgh Industrial Home for Crippled Children and hopes to learn to walk and go on with her high school studies.

A Warren county girl, her progress so far may be measured greatly by aid given through previous March of Dimes funds and the county.

Will Observe C. E. Week At U. B. Church

National Christian Endeavor Week is being observed in the local First United Brethren church this week. The regular Wednesday evening prayer service will be conducted by the young people with Gertrude Lester as leader.

On Friday evening a special program will be presented by the youth of the church, a social hour to follow.

The worship service next Sunday evening will also be arranged and conducted by the young people, with F. H. Hetrick as guest speaker.

A cordial invitation is extended to the youth, as well as the adults of the church and community, to all of these services.

The new officers are: President, Mrs. Clara Welch; vice president, Mrs. Henton; secretary, Mrs. Florence Jones; treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Woodard. Following an afternoon of games a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess.

Problem of the WIRE CAGE

BY JOHN DICKSON CARR

Chapter Nine

WITH the four of them in that confined space, the thick air had grown difficult to breathe. Also, the roof was beginning to leak; pressure by dampness. Hugh felt a raindrop strike the back of his neck, and heard another hit the leather of the picnic-hamper beside him.

"Well, well," said Frank. "He tried to achieve a satiric note. 'So the little lady knows about the perfect murder method.'"

"Yes, Kitty will remember. Nick told us."

"Nick told you? I hadn't heard anything about it."

"You must remember," said Brenda without moving, "that you don't live here, Frank. You have your flat in town. So you aren't here all the time. It was the other night. There was Kitty and myself and two or three others, and the very same subject came up."

"What about it?"

"Nick told us what was, medically speaking, the smoothest and easiest way of committing murder without a slip-up. He said most people wouldn't think of it, because they wouldn't believe it was so easy. Remember, Kitty?"

"Yes."

"It's not fair," said Frank. "If you didn't think of it yourself. Anyway, what is this triple-dyed foolproof method?"

Kitty's mood seemed to change. "That would be telling," she laughed. "We don't want too many people knowing about it, do we, Brenda? No, seriously; this talk has gone far enough. I am beginning to get all sorts of queer and guilty feelings inside. Have you seen any good shows recently? They say Pandora is awfully good."

"My God, these women!" said Frank. "I ask you, Rowland: did you ever hear of anything like this? You start a topic of conversation. You do your best to amuse 'em. Then they take it right out of your hands, and first go all serious on you, and then shut up like oysters. Rotten bad form, that's what I'd call it."

Hugh had been staring out of one window. He could hear the ticking of Brenda's wrist watch. "I think you'd better drop it," he said.

"So you side with them, do you? Why?"

"I'll give you some advice," said Hugh. "Murder's an interesting subject, if you keep it to the theoretical like Dr. Young. Leave it there. Stick to your perfect alibis, and your ingenious ways of bamboozling the police, and your problems and puzzles on paper. But don't ask for advice about practical ways of killing people."

"No? Why?"

"Because you've never seen anybody who has died of violence," said Hugh. "I have."

THE ticking of the wrist watch sounded indignantly loud.

"It's something about the expression of their eyes. Or their open mouths. Anyway, it's the ugliest sight in the world, and you dream about it. Keep off."

"This place is unbearably stuffy," said Kitty. "A little rain won't hurt us. Can't you open that door, Hugh?"

He dragged it open.

The subject was killed, as dead as the images that had floated in front of Hugh Rowland's eyes. For a long time they sat silent, looking out into a solid downpour that was turning the tennis-court to mud-mire and breaking the back of the sodden net. It whipped the door-step and stung up into their eyes. After an aeon in space the noise began to diminish. At seven o'clock, incredibly, there was a great silence.

Frank, waking up, was the first to run out.

"That's over!" said Frank, in a startlingly clear voice. "I feel a whole lot better. I say, the courts in pretty rotten shape, though, isn't it?"

(At this time he had less than twenty minutes to live.)

"Hardest rain in ten years. I'll bet," said Frank. "And now a bath, and a Martini, and dinner. Sorry you can't stay to dinner, Rowland. It'd be inconvenient anyway. Brenda and Maria are getting the dinner; the other servants are out. But you won't be too long about it, will you, old girl? I could eat a horse."

"No. I won't be too long about it."

"Well, I must run," Kitty informed them, flashing a smile on them all. "Thanks for a grand game of tennis, everybody. We'll get our own back soon, Hugh. Frank, you're walking over home with me, aren't you?"

Frank hesitated.

"Cigarette case," insisted Kitty, holding up her racket. "And that book, which I'm not going to allow you to forget."

"All right. Yes, I suppose I'd better." All four were walking towards the gate, and Frank considered. "But over there, and back in less than five minutes. Brenda, so no funny business while I'm gone, old girl. Good-bye, Rowland. I don't think we'll be seeing each other again."

HUGH stopped short. "You don't think—?" Hugh began.

"Well, you could hardly expect anything else after what happened here today, could you?" asked Frank coolly. "But for the first time Hugh noticed that his eyes were shining curiously. "If you think I've forgotten anything, you're very much mistaken. And after what I have to tell Nick about it, I hardly think your presence will be very welcome hereabouts in the future."

"I see."

"You've been saving all this up, have you?"

"That's neither here nor there, old boy. You needn't think you can try to draw me like that. But there is one thing I should rather like to tell you before you go. Don't think you've roused any great interest in Brenda. Don't flatter yourself. Brenda's mother was no better than she should have been, as Brenda herself will tell you; and since she's beginning to collude—"

He stopped, for Hugh was laughing.

Hugh could not help himself. Whether the storm had cleared the air, or what dull cloud had lifted off his wits, he did not know. But, for the first time in the five or six months he had known Frank, the spell was lifted. He suddenly saw Frank for what Frank was, and he saw that Frank was not worth bothering about. So he stood in the wet grass and roared with laughter.

Hugh said, "Get out. You've done your last bit of damage, my lad. Coming this way, Brenda?"

And he stroiled up the drive, with Brenda's arm through his. It was a long drive, but he was chuckling when they reached the top of it, and Brenda was shaking his arm.

"Stop it!" she urged, rather anxiously. "What did you mean by saying that?"

"Just what I said. Due to being in love with you, and over-irritated with him, I have been subnormal. The young snipe had me under a kind of mental and spiritual hypnosis. That has gone. I rather like him now."

"HUGH, listen to me. Where is your car?"

"Out front. Over there somewhere. These infernal hedges—"

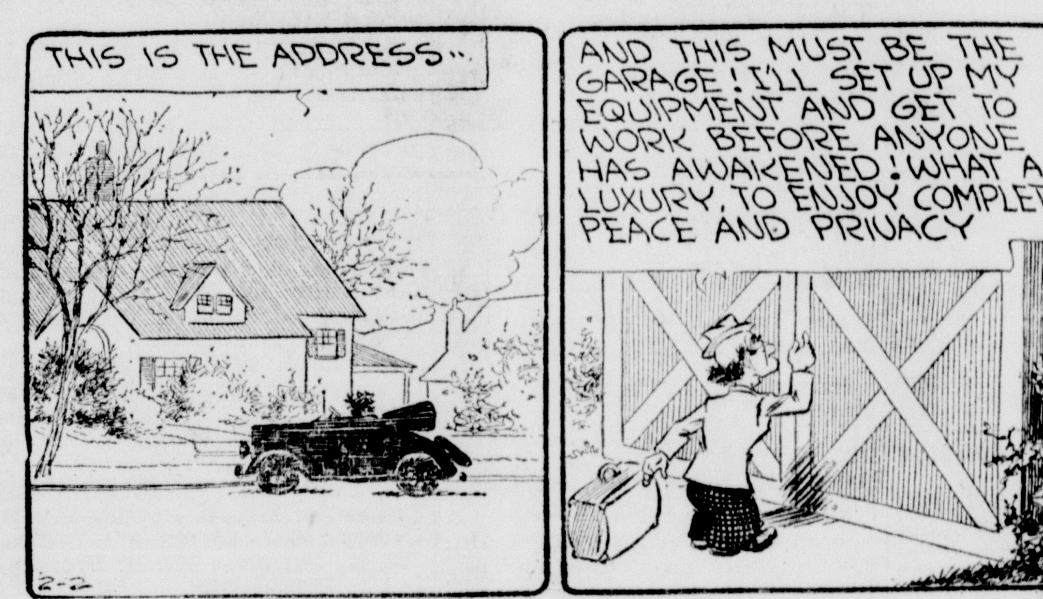

"I want you to do something for me. I want you to leave now; now, do you hear? You can come back a little later, if you like, but you must go now." She hesitated. "I—I want to tell Frank and Nick that the White-Dorrance marriage is off."

The Blomquist Furniture of the "Y" League continued their spurge of no losses and three wins with an easy win over the "jinxed" Struthers-Wells outfit last night and remained at the helm of the league, with only the Rocks to challenge their superiority.

Keeping the Blomquists at an even clip was the only feat the Struthers quint was able to do last night and the first half was as exciting as any game this year, with both teams battling even all through the first two heats. Paced by "Jiggs" Bonavita, the Struthers stayed at 9 to 7 at the first quarter and in the second quarter the local E's kept the pace, with only Jimmy Urbanski of the Furniture to challenge their speed, with a 22 to 18 score being posted at the half. Then Jim got going and, finding the range of the "Y" baskets, after so many successful games in the Beauty gym, opened up his siege guns and blasted off 15 points to go "way up on the Struthers crew and start a lead the defense quint couldn't master, as the third quarter proved their downfall when they were outscored 15 to 4. Even though they held the Furniture even in the last stanza, the lead was too great to overcome and they dropped their second game by 50 to 34.

MACK SENDS PAPERS AND SCORNS JOHNSON

Philadelphia, Feb. 2.—(P)—Connie Mack, 80-year-old president and general manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, began mailing 1943 contracts to his players today and said he had eliminated all bonus clauses.

"There were several such contracts last year, particularly those with Bob Johnson and Dick Stebert," Mack explained, "but so much trouble resulted that I have decided to forget about them this year."

Johnson, reputed to be the highest paid player on the payroll, has notified Mack that he will not play here again unless paid a second bonus which he says is due under an attendance clause in his 1942 contract.

Mack claims home attendance did not reach the total stipulated and has refused to pay what Johnson demands.

"Nevertheless," Mack said, "I'm

The lowly Butter-Krusts of the Monday circuit keep striving for that first win and are still attempting a winning combination out of their wealth of "ayers, with last night no exception as they fell to the Rock Cleaners 48 to 19.

Running up a lead from the starting gun, the Cleaners racked up 7 pointers to the bakery's 2 before the quarter ended and continued all the way through the game, which was an uninteresting tilt with the Rocks drubbing them 48 to 19.

"Tink" Wolfe finally started hitting the hoop and ran up 14 points, after a bad start for the season, leading his Cleaner team to the easy victory. Confer of the Bakery led them with 6 points as the Butter-Krusts suffered their third loss in as many starts.

WEEKLY BIG SIX IN YMCA LOOPS NAMED

The Saturday night "Big Six" shipped out of the hands of Bob Lundquist after Saturday's tilt when he was held to 9 points by "Jiggs" Bonavita, stellar guard of the Struthers-Wells Quint and McAvoy of Sheffield O'Connors took over a slim lead in the select division. Three players are running neck and neck for the lead and two are Blomquist Furniture men. All six have played a total of 5 games to date.

STRIKES to SPARE

PENN BOWLING CENTER

All the City League matches resulted in the favor of three points to one as Texas Lunch, Warren Billiard Academy, Chimenti's Rest., over Recreation Center, Koch's Busy Bee, and Fadale's Amusement Co. respectively.

The Texas Lunch on their win tied with the Koch's Busy Bee for the league's lead as Koch's dropped three to the Warren Billiard Academy. M. Check's 594-214, Christensen's 217-564 led the Hot Dogs. Cosmano's 561 and Dr. J. Giunta's 560 topped the scoring for the Recreation boys.

R. Rapp's 205-581, Hagberg's 210-565 were too much for the Koch's as they dropped three points as Willard's 208-550 led the losers.

Chimenti's on the strength of Logan's 215-572, Hoagvall's 218-555, Randinelli's 215 were too much to overcome for Fadale's as they dropped three as Rossell's 227-539 led the losers.

THE CONEWAGO CLUB

The Pettibones of the Conewago Club Circuit slashed out a three game win over the Logans last night in a feud match by hitting the sticks at a 2555 clip. Neil Culbertson of the Pettibones clipped 538 for the lead of the winners and Dr. Elliot had a neat 525 for the losers. The honor roll was a thing of the past to both outfits last night with no scores in the selected list. Pettibones had high team game for the night with 876 and also had high total for the match.

The Corydon Extension group met at the home of Mrs. Paul Duntley last week.

Mrs. Peck was hostess to the Conewango Extension group last week.

"The Care and Repair of Clothing" was the subject of the discussion at extension meetings in Corydon, Conewango, Stoneham and Columbus last week. In addition, samples of new fabrics and some ready-made undergarments were examined for assistance with buying problems.

W. S. Jeffries, the assistant state club leader from State College, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Fortnightly Club in Tidoute Monday evening, February 1.

"Clothing Remodeling" is the subject of the meeting of the Extension group at Rogertown February 5.

Mrs. Thelma Prendergast spoke on "Nutrition" at the Garland PTA meeting last week.

Dependency Deferrals Reclassified

It will interest many here to know that H. Edwin Gilbert, son of Mrs. Florence Gilbert, of Rochester, N. Y., and grandson of the late Palmer Gilbert, of Warren, has been promoted from second lieutenant to first lieutenant in the United States Coast Artillery. He is located at Southwick Station, near Philadelphia.

1st Lt. Scott L. Bennett, of the Medical Corps, and Mrs. Bennett were weekend guests of the latter's grandfather, H. E. Westburg, 192 Paul Avenue, while en route from their station in Nashville, Tenn., to Mitchell Field, N. Y.

Melvin James McConnell, of the U. S. Navy, has returned to Sampson, N. Y., after a seven-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McConnell, Cobham Park road.

Merle Reese Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Howell, of Spring Creek, has been graduated from the aviation radio school at the U. S. Naval Air Station in Jacksonville, Fla., after completing an intensive course in radio.

He enlisted in the navy August 12, 1942 and was sent to Great Lakes, Ill., for indoctrinal training before being transferred to the Jacksonville station. Now a qualified aviation radioman, Howell will probably be assigned to a naval air unit for further duty.

An acceleration of the United Nations' counter-offensive against Axis submarines was forecast in congressional circles today following a White House conference at which the seriousness of this problem was reported to have been impressed upon leading legislators.

Rangoon, were reported to have been made without loss of an American plane or crew member.

Japanese occupation forces in Burma are resisting strongly in the vicinity of Danbalk on the Mayu peninsula leading down toward Akyab, a British communiqué said today, and the principal fighting apparently is centered in that area.

Withholding Tax Proposed by Treasury

Paul and John Sullivan, assistant secretary of the treasury, were called as the committee's first witnesses on the pay-as-you-go tax proposals.

Under the plan advanced by Beardsley Ruml, chairman of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, all 1942 personal income taxes would be skipped in moving the tax clock ahead one year.

CRUDE OUTPUT DOWN

Tulsa, Okla., Feb. 2.—(P)—Daily crude oil production in the United States decreased 18,440 barrels to 8,830,885 for the week ended January 30, the Oil and Gas Journal said today. California production was down 9,525 to 765,750; eastern fields, 1,000 to 90,000.

Utah has five mountain peaks each more than 10,000 feet above sea level.

today that a book by Generalissimo Chiang-Kai-Shek entitled "China's Destiny" would appear March 12 on the anniversary of the death of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, founder of the Chinese republic.

Los Angeles, Feb. 2.—(P)—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker declared today that "the perpetual slow-down in war industry caused by absenteeism—particularly in the aircraft industry, where it exceeds the average of 10 per cent—is probably the most flagrant abuse" of Americans' obligations since Pearl Harbor.

Groundhog Withholds Prediction

Sniffing with disdain, the Warren county groundhog, like his Quarryville rival, made no public proclamation today as to the weather for the next six weeks, because of wartime censorship.

But chucking all that aside, the Keene Republican prints the following:

"Whether it was to confuse his arch rival, Brer Groundhog, or just another Seneca cynicism, Chief Charley Thundercloud split a March hare this morning when he grunted, 'Ugh, second moon come in likeum lion—mebbe go out likeum papoose sheep' . . . He obviously was referring to February's windy entrance, but the lion-lamb tradition hitherto has been recognized as the exclusive property of the third month. Charley has been in the well-known groove in his Complanter crystal-gazing thus far this winter, so perhaps he has something. However, with this talk of lions, lambs and groundhogs somebody might be encouraged to remark that it's beastly weather."

JOHN H. SHAW

John Hamilton Shaw, one of the best known residents of Kellettville over a long period of years, died suddenly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Luella S. Dunkle, 1906 Pennsylvania avenue, east, this morning about nine o'clock. He had been ill and bedridden most of the time since suffering a stroke seven years ago.

Mr. Shaw was born on the Shaw farm near Plumer, Venango county, November 14, 1864. He went to Kellettville before he was 21 years of age and worked for the tannery and the Collins interests for almost a half century. Later he was caretaker on the highways until he was taken ill and compelled to retire in March, 1936.

Besides Mrs. Dunkle he is survived by two sons, Edward S. Shaw, Leeper, and William H. Shaw, Warren. There are seven grandchildren, two of whom are in the armed services. The following brothers and sisters also survive: Mrs. Etta Rudy, Warren; Harry Shaw, Sheffield; C. C. Shaw, Derry. He was married in 1888 in Tionesta, to Miss Ida Grove, of East Hickory, and the couple observed their golden wedding anniversary four years ago. Mrs. Shaw preceded him in death about three years ago.

The body was taken to the Haslet funeral home in Tionesta to be prepared for burial. It will be brought back to the Dunkle home where friends may call. Arrangements for the funeral will be withheld pending arrival of a grandson in an army camp in Indiana. Burial will be in the Barnes cemetery in the family plot.

TIMES TOPICS

JURORS ARE DRAWN

The grand and traverse jurors for the March term of court have been drawn by the jury commissioners and will appear soon.

CONFINED TO HOME

Mrs. Neil Skelton has been confined to her home, 7 Malvina street, during the past week with a severe attack of sciatic neuritis. Her friends will be glad to know she is recovering.

CHIMNEY FIRE

At 10:55 last night a chimney fire at the home of George Groves, 14 Water street, called the emergency truck from the Central fire station in answer to an alarm. No damage was done.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTION

A resolution expressing regret at the death of John M. Flynn, veteran Democratic legislator, who served from 1902 to 1935, was introduced in the house at Harrisburg last night by Rep. Herbert P. Sorg, Republican, of Elk county.

KIWANIS MEETING

Tomorrow at 12:15 when the Warren Kiwanis club meets at the Carver Hotel, Professor Harry A. Summers will present a musical entertainment featuring a selected group of high school students. An announcement is promised of a second vice-presidential appointment at the board of directors meeting which fills the vacancy created by Dr. Colley's recent transfer to the Erie club.

SHIP WAS SUNK

Due to the sinking of a ship carrying 100,000 hides from South America to the United States, 18 tanners have been laid off at the Emporium tannery. The loss of the ship and its cargo of hides has affected all tanneries in this section of the state. The Emporium tannery employs 104 men and has been least affected by the loss, it is said.

HAS NEW SERVICE

The Western Union Telegraph Company announces a new service known as "Longrange." By this service, long messages may be sent in a most economical manner and messages may even be sent in "continuations." Costs are under regular rates and the service promises to be very popular. Users of the Western Union wires will find employees of the office most cooperative in explaining the use of the new service.

GIVEN LONG TERM

John Desantis,

Men you've never even met Are fighting for you now!

Americans, all—millions of them!

The son of the tailor down at the corner . . . the young brother of the banker . . . the nephew of the gas-station man . . . the farm boy from Iowa . . . the college boy from Park Avenue.

Fighting, all of them—for us. That's Democracy in action. Because all Americans were "created free and equal" every American has an equal duty to perform.

And that's where WE come in. We've got to back up those boys. We've got to see that they get the stuff to fight with. Planes . . . tanks . . . guns . . . bullets . . . bombs . . . more of them than the world has ever seen before.

Every payday we've got to save—put 10 percent of our pay in War Bonds. Millions of other Americans are doing it.

"Sacrifice," you say? As great a sacrifice as the boys made at Bataan or Corregidor? As great a sacrifice as a flier made who deliberately gave his life to bomb a Jap plane carrier?

Nothing we can do can ever equal what these men have already done!

Mind you, we're not even asked to give this money. Every time we save $18.75 we get a War Bond worth $25 in 10 years.

That's why we're not looking for excuses, we Americans.

We're not looking for excuses from lending money, when other Americans are giving their lives!

DO YOU KNOW?

When you buy WAR BONDS, you're saving, not giving! Series E WAR BONDS are worth 33⅓ percent more in 10 years! You get $4 for every $3 you invest!

These BONDS, when held to maturity (10 years), yield 2.9 percent per year on your investment, compounded semiannually!

Joining a Pay-Roll Savings Plan makes saving easy!

Joining your bank's Victory Club (it works like any Thrift or Christmas Club) is a convenient way to save for War Bonds for those who aren't members of a Pay-Roll Savings Plan.

You can have enough money to do a lot of things you'd like to do, and to buy the many things you'll need after the war is over, if you save enough in War Bonds every payday NOW!

You can start buying WAR BONDS by buying War Stamps for as little as 10 cents
